No, I wouldn't go so far as to say Americans are all conspiratorial lunatics. But people who still want to invoke the 25th Amendment to "suspend" the president because "he's mentally ill" (as some still do), or "he's having a nervous breakdown," or "he's mad" (as some still do) do it because they're living in a country where we all still believe that the presidency is "the most dangerous job in the world", and where most folks still hold the president in awe, even if they are either unwilling or unable to confront the idea that we might soon be getting a president who is as mentally stable as he is stable-minded, and who acts in ways that are truly "normal" rather than "fraught with danger". (I've been saying for some time that whether Donald Trump is actually "crazy" doesn't really matter at the core, but rather that it is the people who are sitting around waiting for him to reach for the nuclear button that are the real crazies.)Industrial Strength (Jennifer Lopez song) "Industrial Strength" is a song by Puerto Rican-American singer Jennifer Lopez featuring American rapper Pitbull released on June 30
