Elden Ring is a new fantasy action role-playing game, the first Fantasy role-playing game in Koei Tecmo's History series (along with the popular Dynasty Warriors). Players control a powerful weapon known as the Elden Ring and are tasked with protecting the territory of the Elden Vale, which is nestled between the rich Lands of Vanaheim and Asgarnia. One fine day in Vanaheim, a mysterious figure appeared before the gate of the Elden Vale, claiming to be a descendant of the elves. A legend arose as he went on to slaughter a vast number of men, earning the name "Tarnished." From this occurred a dispute between the Elves and Humans. Various Humans entered the Elden Vale, creating a series of lies and rumors. By finding a legendary weapon, a chain known as the Elden Ring, this conflict was renewed and led to a bloody war between Humans and Elves. This battle triggered the creation of humans' city of Vanaheim, known as Castle Empire. Waves of monsters invaded the Lands Between, and the Elves retreated to the Mountains of Vanaheim, leaving these desolate lands free for Humans to move into. Through gritted teeth, Vanaheim faced the future with the sudden influx of people, and it fell into a period of peace. Now, new Elves and Humans have emerged, and the Elden Vale has returned to its former splendor. As the Elden Vale once again awakens to a new age, the world awaits your action.

With an eye toward creating a unique online experience that allows you to blend seamlessly into the game world, we've decided to host asynchronous online play for AI reasons. In other words, the game doesn't require players to be online at the same time. It's an element that wasn't previously considered a core part of online, but we think it's an important element for online.

Inexperience may be a factor in case of the young in the protection of their health. The objective of this study was to analyse the relationship between inexperience and falls in elderly adults. The design was cross-sectional and descriptive. Data were collected from a sample of the elderly in a district of the south-east Brazilian city of Maceió, from 2009 to 2010. The sample was composed of 483 elderly who answered the questionnaire. The questionnaire explored the following variables: the sociodemographic profile of the elderly; frequency and characteristics of falls in the previous year; type of injury suffered, the severity and possible relationship with the number of falls; impact of the falls and the occurrence of bruises, broken bones and the death of the elderly. Fisher's exact test was used to assess the relationship between the variables. The results revealed a rate of 8.7 falls for the elderly in the previous year. Men were more likely than women to have fallen. There was a significant association between falling and getting up from bed, falling while walking, being alone at home, knee, leg or hip pain, and falling while using public transport. Falls were also associated with multiple fractures. The discussion of the results is focused on the lack of protection in the elderly due to the lack of experience in the daily living context.
